RELATIVES OF OTTAWA RECLUSE ARE LOCATED

SMALL HOME OF AGED MAN IS SEARCHED

Stories of Hidden Wealth Attract Many to Hermit's Home
LONELY LIFE IS REVEALED
Dog, Saved from Death, Refuses to Leave Master's Body

OTTAWA — (Special) — Search for relatives of Daniel Shaefer, recluse who gave his life for a pet dog Saturday, was partly successful Sunday; search of his premises for clues to solve the strange mystery surrounding the life of "Old Dan" were without result.

With the locating Sunday of a divorced wife and a son and daughter of the eccentric victim of tragedy, interest turned again Monday to hunt thru the shack which Shaefer called home and about the grounds surrounding it.

Grant Shaefer, 48, a son residing near Continental and Mrs. William Ziegler, a daughter residing in Foley, Ala., and the third Mrs. Shaefer of Ottawa were located Sunday, the latter reading of the tragedy in Sunday News and communicating with her son Grant Shaefer believes the girl who also divorced, is living but address not known where she is.

Because of Old Dan's unusual mode of living and the seclusion he always maintained, together with many habits and customs, he was known as a community character and many strange stories and theories were associated with him.

Belief that the old man had plenty of money grew as "Old Dan" continued year after year to live alone with his pack of dogs and his chickens in his one-room, unkempt shack near Ottawa, always feeding the dogs and chickens of the best although himself frugally. When $243 was found sewed in his clothing following his death, more credence was given to the stories of wealth having been hidden about the shack and grounds.

Interest of the whole community followed the search of the shack and premises Sunday for wealth and documents. Upon entering the place the searches first were confronted with a well worn and much fingered Bible which rested on one of the benches, which constituted much of the furniture.

Corner A. F. Sheibley searched the Bible for papers and marked pages, which might afford clues to the man's life but he found nothing of importance. "Old Dan" was known as a Bible student who could make lengthy passages and the many markings in consequence offered nothing of importance. Neither did the superficial examination of the premises Sunday disclose anything of value. No will, nor other documents were found, despite the fact the recluse recently is said to have talked making a will.

NO TREASURE

Preliminary search of the grounds likewise failed to disclose any evidence of buried treasure, but search of both the shack and grounds was renewed Monday. Authorities will lead in a minute examination of the place in the walls of the building, the drawers in the old bureau and the boxes that he tumbled about in his prison.

Those who took part in Sunday's hunt wondered at the strangeness of the man who could live amid such surroundings with so much cramped space, a small space-man, dogs, chickens, and dirt associated with such promiscuity and sordid surroundings.

Along with his beloved Bible, dogs and chickens night after night "Old Dan" had stooped, his shaggy and heard long unshorn, has been seen bending over under the dim light of the desolate shack—was a counting mysterious hoardings of a miserly fashion or was he counting the Scriptures from which he so often went to quote, enjoying the solace and companionship of the few things which he seemed to treasure. This is the question which numbers expect to answer when they meet their operations.

That "Old Dan" found reciprocation in the love and attention which heaped fellow men and reserved for him, following the tragedy which ended his strange life in Ottawa, the dogs, which had slept with him and followed him wherever he went and fared better even than did the man, manifested an interest even greater than that of the searchers in what he had.

THE FAITHFUL

Most significant of all were the actions of the creature who was the subject of the search.

CONSPIRACY TO EXHIBIT FIGHT FILMS ALLEGED

Former Secret Agent Links Attorney General With Scheme to Evade Regulations and "Clean Up" on Dempsey-Carpentier Moving Pictures

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—A story alleging that Attorney General Daugherty was himself concerned in an unlawful conspiracy to exhibit the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films, and had suggested that those behind the scheme should get a fifty per cent "cut" in the profits, was related today to the senate committee investigating the department of justice.

Gerald O. Holdridge, a former secret agent of the department, told the story as he said it had been related to him by Jap Muma, New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer and one of those named as a backer of the distributing plan. Holdridge read to the committee under oath a long statement regarding his conversations with Muma and at the end of the statement there was an endorsement by Thomas Spellacy, another former department agent, saying the assertions made were "absolutely true."

Spellacy, Holdridge said, was present when he talked with Muma.

After he had heard Muma's story, Holdridge went on, he came to Washington and related it to William J. Burns, head of the justice department bureau of investigation. Instead of ordering any prosecutions, however, he said, Burns transferred him to a long pending bank case. Some time afterward, he said, he quit the government service in "disgust."

According to Muma as quoted by Holdridge, the plan to show the pictures over the country, despite the federal law against their transportation across state lines, followed a private exhibition at the home here of Edward B. McLean, attended by President Harding and members of the cabinet.

At the conclusion of the showing at the McLean house, Holdridge said, Muma "had a talk with Attorney General Daugherty and the president" and later Secretary Hughes, Secretary Christian and Harry S. New, then senator and now postmaster general, joined in the discussion.

TOLD WHAT TO DO

"He (Muma) told me it seemed to be the general opinion," said the witness, "that it was a shame people could not see them. Later Muma, talking with the attorney general, he told me, was told that the law against the pictures was solely directed to their transportation. Muma went on to say Attorney General Daugherty directed him to see Alfred R. Union, an attorney in Washington. He said he saw Union, and that he told him what to do."

Muma then was quoted as saying that he reached an understanding with Union, who was supposed to be a friend of the attorney general, with the result that "we went to it," exhibiting the pictures in more than twenty states with large profits. The witness also declared that Muma had shown a copy of the contract under which the deal was consummated and under which, Muma received a fifty per cent of the profits. The contract, he said, bore the names of Tex Rickard, the fight promoter, and F. C. Quimby, producer of the picture.

GOAT IN EACH

There was to be a "goat" in each state to be fined, Muma told him, the witness said, and there was to be an effort to get a "line on the attitude of federal judges."

Muma told him that either Judge Landis of Illinois or Judge Anderson of Indiana, had such a hostile attitude that the matter was dropped. Holdridge said, adding that he believed the reference was to Judge Anderson.

Muma said Quimby became alarmed after talks with Spellacy and Ralph Navarro, department agents, and went to Washington to see McLean, Holdridge testified.

Muma said he told McLean that he (Muma) "was headed for the Atlanta penitentiary," the witness quoted Muma as saying.

Then he said Muma told him McLean "got in touch with Mr. Daugherty."

2 ROBBERS DISCOVERED IN GARAGE

Frank Kommink Target for Bullets of Night Marauders

ATTEMPT MEETS FAILURE

Search by Police to Reveal Path of Their Flight

Two automobile thieves who were attempting to steal an automobile from the garage at the home of Frank Kommink, 317 S. Cole-st., early Sunday morning, fired at him several times before they were finally compelled to flee.

This became known when Kommink called police and informed them that two men were trying to start an automobile in his garage. Both had disappeared when a detachment of police arrived on the scene, they having given up hope of getting the automobile motor started.

MEN SEEN

Kommink was awakened out of a sound sleep by the noise of the starter on his automobile being operated, he told police. He went to the window and saw the two men in the garage trying to get the automobile started.

He called to them and asked them what they were doing. His only answer was a shot fired somewhere in his direction. Four times he called to the men and four times shots were fired at him. None of the bullets struck the house, Kommink says, and he believes they were fired to scare him rather than to do any harm.

Kommink then decided to call the police. While he was at the telephone it is thought the thieves decided they could not get the automobile started before the police arrived and fled down the alleys and thru the fashionable residence district of the city. No trace could be found of them although police searched the entire district thoroughly.

MISS OLIVE BELLE HAMON

Daughter of the late Jake Hamon slipped down to Washington and demanded an apology of Leonard Wood, Jr., for things he had said about her father in reference to the oil scandal. Young Wood apologized.

ROBBER SUSPECT IS ARRESTED

Prisoner Held in Kentucky Believed Escaped Convict

GREENVILLE, Ky. — (Associated Press) — A man believed by Muhlenburg-co officials to be Gerald Chapman, escaped convict from the federal prison at Atlanta, where he was serving a 25 year sentence for a mail robbery in New York, is being held here today for federal authorities.

The government agents in Louisville have been notified and are expected to come here today for the prisoner.

Chapman was arrested at Belmont, this county, yesterday by Sheriff S. C. Shaver, who had been watching him since soon after his arrival in Central City, ten days ago. The prisoner said his name was Charles Chapman, but denied that he was the man wanted. He has admitted a prison record, according to Deputy D. C. Pace.

Chapman, according to Pace, arrived in Central City from Union City, ten days ago. He was accompanied by a woman and two children, a girl, 14, and a boy 10.

Saturday the woman sent a Central City man to Belmont with a verbal message to Chapman telling him that he was being watched and advising him to flee, according to the sheriff's office. The messenger was with the sheriff when the suspect was arrested.

Lives Snuffed Out as Belated Train Hits Victims' Machine While They are On Way to Church Early Monday Morning

Four Children Left Motherless by Accident, Bodies and Wreckage Riding Pilot of Locomotive for Distance of 2600 Feet

DELPHOS — (Special) — Lives of two women were snuffed out and four children were left motherless in a tragedy enacted early Monday at one of Delphos' most dangerous railroad crossings. The dead are:

MRS. JOHN LEHM.
KUNTS, 60, Delphos.
CLARA MIDDLEKEMP,
24, Ottaville.

The two met death when the automobile in which they were riding, north, was hit by a west bound Pennsylvania passenger train at Bredebeck-st. The victims were on their way to church, observing the custom they had maintained during the last week of attending six o'clock mass at St. John's church.

As far as could be learned Monday there were no witnesses to the accident, but it is believed Mrs. Lehmkul, who was driving, had no warning of the train's approach and that the machine was hit before either of its occupants was aware of the danger.

THRU TRAIN

The train which figured in the tragedy is one which does not stop in Delphos and which is due thru the city shortly after 5 a. m. before the crossing watchman arrives on duty to operate the gates. The train is said to have been running about 25 minutes late Monday morning and consequently the women probably thought it had gone thru.

The locomotive struck the automobile square, scattered bits of wreckage along the way and carried the bulk of the twisted mass aboard the pilot, the bodies of the hapless victims still jammed between the debris and the front of the engine when the train was halted 2,600 feet ahead.

The train was then backed to the station and the mangled remains of the two women and the wrecked car were removed. Both women evidently had been killed instantly, each receiving several injuries any one of which probably would have been fatal during the few seconds consumed in halting the train.

Mrs. Lehmkul was the wife of the operator of the Shook Laundry agency, Lehmkul, who was a former city councilman and following the accident Monday recalled fights he had made in city council to have continuous protection provided for the Bredebeck crossing which he considers one of the most dangerous in the city.

Besides the husband there are four small children who survive Mrs. Lehmkul: Percival, 12, Minerva 11, Matanus, 9 and Herman, 2.

Mrs. Middlekemp is survived by her mother Mrs. Anna Middlekemp, who resides on Ottaville a brother Fred Wamstroh, Lima-av, Delphos, and one sister Mrs. Joseph Wecht, S. Brdbeck-av, Delphos. She was employed at the laundry agency and made her home at the Lehmkul residence.

The remains of the two victims were taken first to the Baxter morgue and prepared for burial and then to their homes, that of Mrs. Lehmkul in Delphos and that of Mrs. Middlekemp in Ottaville. Funeral services probably will be held Thursday.

EIGHT MORE DEAD

CLEVELAND — Associated Press) — Eight persons are dead today, one is probably fatally shot and several others are less seriously wounded, the result of a series of shootings, cuttings and accidents in northern Ohio over the week-end. Six of the deaths and the probable fatal shooting occurred here. One death was at Akron and an other at Ottaville.

The dead:

Joseph Daxberger, 49, Mrs. Joseph Daxberger, 38, Mrs. Lillian Smith, 23, Mrs. Anna Young, 40, negroes, Luke Somers, 42, Michael Marcinuk, 28; all of Cleveland. Charles E. Kenc, 41, Akron; Daniel Schaffer, 70, Ottaville.

Insane jealousy is believed by police to have led Daxberger to beat

ACCUSED SLAYER SHOT TO DEATH

Man Charged With Killing Wife, Son, Slain by Sheriff

CASPER, Wyo. — (United Press) — Fred Van Gordon, accused of murdering his wife and their 12-year-old son, was shot to death in a gun battle with Sheriff Peyton of Douglas, Wyo., last night.

The body of Mrs. Van Gordon was found in a creek two miles north of Casper. The son's body was found near the same spot.

After he is alleged to have killed his wife and son, Van Gordon drove in a blood-besattered automobile to Douglas, where he encountered Sheriff Peyton. Each fired four shots before the accused murderer was slain.

Van Gordon was a prominent investment broker of Casper. He came here seven years ago from York, Neb.

J. H. Dorsey of St. Louis, a brother of Mrs. Van Gordon, was expected here to take charge of the bodies, which will be taken to Greenfield, Ia., for burial.

THEATRE ROBBED

$2,540 Taken from Safe in Playhouse at Lorain

LORAIN — (Associated Press) — Robbers chiseled the combination from the safe in the State theatre here early today and escaped with $2,540 in cash, receipts of the theatre for Saturday and Sunday.

The robbery was committed after 2 o'clock this morning. Bentley Wallace, manager, said.

Entrance was gained thru a dressing room window.

TWO MILLION CHILDREN IN GERMANY STARVING

WASHINGTON — Two and one half million children in Germany are starving, sickness is steadily increasing and unemployment is reaching almost unbelievable heights, the Federal Council of Churches declared today in a statement urging support for the relief campaign being conducted in the United States.

From fifty to seventy per cent of the children in cities and industrial districts are under-nourished, says the statement and rickets, blindness, scurvy, spinal curvature, anemia and pellagra are prevalent.

In 1923 the per capita allotment of meat was one ounce a day and now is even less, it continues, while only from one-twentieth to one-eighth of the pre-war milk supply is available and tuberculosis among school children has increased tenfold with a 14 per cent advance in the death rate from this cause over the 1923 figure.

2 BONUS REPORTS PRESENTED

House Committee is Divided on Measure

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Two reports on the soldiers' bonus bill were presented to the house today by the ways and means committee, four Republicans signing a minority statement opposing the measure.

Chairman Green in the majority report stated that expenditures under the bill, estimated at $2,119,000,000, could be met from prospective savings in current government expenses and called for no additional taxes.

The minority statement signed by Representatives Treadway, Minnesota; Tilson, Connecticut; Watson, Pennsylvania and Mills, New York, declared if the bill were enacted its requirements threatened the likelihood of future tax reductions.

Prospects for passage of the measure tomorrow were declared bright today by proponents.

A two-thirds vote is necessary, since the bill will come up under suspension of the rules which also limits debate and prevents amendments.

500-YEAR SUIT ENDS

BERNE — Litigation more than 500 years old came to an end here recently when the city of Berne was awarded possession of Oeschelike Lake. The litigation was commenced in 1400 and countless generations of plaintiffs have used their fortunes and efforts in fighting what is said to be the oldest law suit in history.

St. Patrick's Day Celebrated Here

Lima observed St. Patrick's day Monday with usual display of green and gold, colors of the Irish Free State and dismissal of classes in parochial schools.

In legends handed down St. Patrick is celebrated as the deliverer of Ireland from a scourge of reptiles which infested the island centuries ago.

His origin is clouded with historians differing but it is generally adopted that as a child he was sold into slavery and escaped to Brittany where he entered a monastery and years after went to Ireland and preached his doctrine.

PRINCE URGED TO TAKE LIFE MORE SERIOUSLY

LONDON — The Prince of Wales' twelfth birthday accident, in which he was thrown while participating in a race at Arbroath Saturday, is made the text of editorial homilies by several newspapers, which tell him that the people are much concerned over the manner in which he continues to risk his life. The writers remind him that he is not a private person but a national asset and say that although he is fully entitled to recreation, it is time he imposed restraint on his plucky spirits.

The Laborite newspaper, the Daily Herald, insinuates that he spends his days hunting and steeple-chasing and his nights dancing. It adds that it is time he took life more seriously and devoted his energies to occupations more worth while.

PORT CAPTURED

Victory Scored by Mexican Rebels is Reported

MEXICO CITY — (Associated Press) — War Secretary Sarraon, en route to Salina Cruz with an expeditionary force, has changed his course, proceeding to Acapulco in consequence of the reported capture of that port by rebels under Cuadillo Aguilar. He expects to recapture the place without difficulty.

The government has received reports that the commander of the federal garrison, upon the approach of the rebels, requested the captain of the United States Ship Cincinnati, anchored in the port, to land a detachment and preserve order.

It is understood that the Mexican war department sent a message to Washington saying that the federal authorities had no authority to request foreign armed assistance and that such a request, if made, would be considered treason. The Cincinnati is reported to have put to sea later upon receiving instructions from Washington.

WOMEN'S POLICE BUREAU MAY BE ESTABLISHED

CLEVELAND — An ordinance providing for the establishment of policewomen in a bureau headed by a woman goes to city council tonight. It already has been approved by the council judiciary committee consequently little opposition to final enactment was expected. Under the measure, the head of the bureau will report to the chief of police.

DICKS OF INJURIES

CINCINNATI — As a result of injuries received in an automobile accident Mrs. Belle Neal, 57, of Cincinnati, died in a Hamilton hospital.

BRIBERY CHARGED IN OIL DEAL

Suit to Cancel California Lease Filed by U. S.

PLOT TO DEFRAUD ALLEGED

Conspiracy Entered by Fall and Doheny, Claim

LOS ANGELES — (Associated Press)—Suit to cancel the lease of California oil lands to the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co., as well as its accompanying agreements for construction and stocking by that company of naval oil storage facilities at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, was filed by the government here today.

The bill of complaint charges that bribery entered into the making of the agreements. The bill also alleges fraud, conspiracy and illegality in the case of the suit filed March 13 at Cheyenne, Wyo., with reference to the Transit Bond issue and contracts. As in the Transit suit, the government's special counsel, Alice Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, asked the United States district court to issue a temporary injunction stopping the production of oil and to appoint receivers to take possession of the oil lands and to enter a final decree declaring void and cancelling the lease and a related agreement.

FALL HIT IN BILL

The Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co. and its subsidiary, the Pan-American Petroleum Co., were made defendants in the action, and company, and Albert Fall, former secretary of the interior, was charged with the bill of conspiracy to defraud the United States. "For the private gain of said Fall and of defendants, for whom said Doheny acted,"

For the creation of rights in the defendants, Fall was to receive certain rewards from said Doheny, the bill avers, adding that the payment to Fall of $100,000 by Doheny in November, 1921, was "that certain reward therefore promised."

In developing the conspiracy, the complaint charges Fall and Doheny by false, fraudulent and untrue representations induced President Harding in good faith to sign an executive order authorizing the lease.

PROPOSALS INVITED. Proceedings under his understanding with Doheny, the complaint continues, Fall "purporting to act in behalf of the United States" invited proposals for royalty oil accruing from the California naval oil reserves. The proposals, however, it adds, were "so drawn that no one but the defendant Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Co. could or would bid thereon."

Under this arrangement, it is charged, leasing and other agreements were entered into, covering oil lands rich in oil and gas in navy reserves number one and number two, secretly and privately without competitive bidding.

The agreements, it is charged, were obtained by bribery; the result of said unlawful bribery was and is fraud upon the United States, illegal, null and void and of no force or validity and should be delivered up to the United States to be cancelled.

The Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Corporation is said to have proceeded with the acquisition of all the royalty oil due the United States while the subsidiary is said to have continued drilling wells and extracting gas and oil from the leased reserve area. The removal of the oil is declared to be a continuing damage to the United States.

DAUGHERTY KEPT FOR HIS INFLUENCE, CHARGE

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Daugherty is being kept in office by President Coolidge solely because of Daugherty's "supposed political influence," in the forthcoming campaign, Senator Cateary, Democrat, Arkansas, today charged in the senate.

"Everyone knows there would be a quick change of attorney generals if Mr. Coolidge were not a candidate for re-election," said the Arkansas senator.

"I am not criticizing the president in this connection but it is certain he doesn't dare to let Daugherty go simply and only because of political reasons."

FRENCH RELIEF PLAN REJECTED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON — The United States in a formal note to Ambassador Jusserand made public here today by the state department, rejects the suggestion of the French government for the creation of an international agency to deal with questions arising out of relief credits extended to European countries during and just after the world war.

Man Made "Young" At 84 Tells How He Regained Vigor

Another remarkable report of being made "young" without a gland operation comes from J. L. Rowell, 84, of Kaw City, Okla.

"It has been simply wonderful," says Mr. Rowell. "My eyesight is clearer and my muscles feel supple. I walk with a firm, springy step and now can do a man's work. I am enjoying a remarkable re-invigoration and restoration of gland and nerve activity, and I feel as young and vigorous as I did at 30. I have found a real fountain of youth."

Mr. Rowell says he "rejuvenated" himself only ten days by taking the only advertised korex compound in tablet form. Many others—youth and old—make similar reports of their experience with this compound in cases of nerve weakness, lost vigor and premature age. In fact, letters praising korex are being received in such volume that full-strength $2 treatments are being offered on trial, under a money-back guarantee, by the Korex Company, 2757 Melton Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., American distributors of the compound. Any reader accepting this offer should enclose $2 or agree to pay $2 and return on delivery. However, the purchase price will be refunded, upon request, to any user who reports within ten days that he is not satisfied.

Mainly About People

The Business and Professional Women's club of Lima will hold a luncheon at the Lima home Tuesday, 6:30 p. m. Music and a business session are included in the program. Sixty members are expected to be present.

Prof. C. H. Freeman of Ohio Northern university addressed the Business and Industrial Girls' clubs at the Y. W. C. A. Sunday afternoon. Freeman's subject was "Christianity in Business."

Practically all members of Fidelity Chapter, DeMolay, observed Sunday as DeMolay Devotional day by attending their respective churches. This announcement was made Monday by Emil E. Everett, "daddy" of the chapter.

A seed-corn culling demonstration was given at Lafayette town hall, Jackson-tp., by County Agent H. J. Ridge on Monday morning. Another demonstration was given by him at Bath-tp. house, Bath-tp., at 1 p. m.

The American club, an organization of young women of Trinity church will have a dinner at 6 p. m. Monday in the church. Miss Lena Phillips is president of the club.

Mrs. W. B. Duffield, wife of the widely known banker, and prominent in society circles, is on her way home from Havana, Cuba, where she had the misfortune to fall, fracturing both arms. The accident occurred on a slippery sidewalk. Mrs. Duffield is accompanied by her husband, and will arrive home late Monday night.

RECLUSE'S HOME IS SEARCHED

witting cause of his strange master's violent end. The dog whose life "Old Dan" saved at the cost of his own was the dog who had been captured and captured through Saturday night and Sunday. He was shunted from the path of a train Saturday when the pack accompanied "Old Dan" to town. His master was struck and killed by the train after saving the dog's life.

After the accident the other dogs were corralled and locked in a shed but the one known as "Old Dan" gave his one and only refusal to be caught. He got away and spent all Saturday night and all day Sunday running aimlessly about the scene of the tragedy or trotting impatiently up and down in front of the morgue where lay his master's body. Late Sunday night, tired from his long and frantic vigil he suffered capture and was locked up with the others.

"Old Dan" probably will be buried in the little country graveyard near Hamler where a few years ago Shafer, then anticipating his end was near, bought a lot and let it be known he should be buried there.

Grant Shafer, the son, announced he would be in Ottawa Monday and make arrangements for the funeral. The daughter in Alabama is the mother of three children, and wired that because of the youngest, who is just a few weeks old, she will be unable to make the trip to Ohio.

SON TAKES CHARGE

The body Monday noon was claimed by his son, Grant Shafer, of Continental. Mr. and Mrs. Shafer and their daughter came from Continental to Ottawa and took charge of funeral arrangements for disposition of the body.

"Father's only interest in life of late has been his dogs and chickens and on the other hand, his only comfort has been in these feathered friends," said Grant Shafer. "He loved them as we loved a child."

"For a period of 27 years I did not know where my father was living and I had not seen him in all that time until a year ago, when my wife and I visited him in his shanty across the Blanchard river bridge."

"At that time he was living in a much worse place than at the present time. I was so thoroughly disgusted with the place that I offered my father a home with me. But he said he could not leave his chickens and dogs. I was not situated so I could care for the dogs, for in town the authorities would not tolerate a dog such animal."

"So when we left him, he declared that he would remain in his shanty. I have not seen him since."

HAD FOUR WIVES

"My father has had a varied experience with women. My mother is dead and she is buried in the Ridgefield cemetery near Hamler. I did not know my father owned a lot there, but he purchased one, it is probably his desire to be buried beside my mother."

"His second wife, too, is dead. My sister and I were taken by an uncle when I was seven years of age, just following the death of my mother."

"I know that his third wife is living and that he was divorced from her. She formerly was Ora Malett of Miller City. I believe now that she lives in Lima."

"His last wife, too, is living," concluded Shafer.

Shafer could ascribe no real reason for his father taking up the life of the hermit. He believed, however, that he was embittered with life and preferred the association of his pets to that of human intimacies.

Shafer said that as soon as the affairs of his father are adjusted in the courts, he will take home the chickens. He said he would sell the dogs. Shafer's dog family now consists of seven, who are being cared for by neighbors in a shed there until such a time as they can be disposed of.

Shafer could throw no light into the tangled skein of affairs in the life of his father.

He selected the casket and the clothing which will be placed on the father's body for burial robes. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shafer mourned the lot which had befallen the former's father, they said.

FIRE CALL. Firemen were called to the home of W. W. Schoonover, 769 E. High-st., Monday at noon when sparks from a fire caused slight damage to the roof.

DAUGHERTY FACES NEW CHARGES

Lean's house, the witness said:

"Acting on agreements previously made on or about July 4, 1921, Muma left New York for Washington."

"What arrangement?" asked Senator Wheeler.

"He passed over that casually."

Holdridge then said Muma told him of the private showing here, attended by the president and members of the cabinet.

"Following the exhibition of the pictures," Holdridge went on, "Muma had a talk with Attorney General Daugherty and the president."

"Secretary Christian, Secretary Hughes and Mr. New joined them."

"The discussion became general."

"He told me it seemed to be the general opinion that it was a shame people could not see them," the witness went on.

"Later Muma talking with the attorney general, he told me, was told that the law against the pictures was solely directed to transportation."

GREAT MIDDLEMAN

"Muma went on to say Attorney General Daugherty directed him to see Alfred R. Union, an attorney in Washington. Muma broke out to me:

"He's the greatest middleman in the world."

"He said he saw Union and that he told him what to do," Holdridge resumed. "He said he had great influence with both the Democratic and Republican parties, and with the big newspapers."

Muma then was quoted as saying there was to be a "goat" to be arrested in each state and pay the fine for exhibiting the pictures."

Muma explained that it was "necessary to get a line on the attitude of the federal judge," Holdridge went on. In one state, he said, "there was doubt as to the attitude of one judge, who might insist on jail sentences."

Spellacy was present when Muma told his story to him, Holdridge said. He added that Spellacy now is in St. Louis with the American Locomotive Company. Senator Wheeler immediately ordered a subpoena for him.

Muma showed him a copy of a contract, said Holdridge, under which "he, under the name of Martin, received fifty per cent of the profits."

"He said the name Martin was a dummy," said Holdridge.

The names of Rickard and Quimby also appeared as signers of the contract, the witness said.

PREPARED STATEMENT

The witness was reading from a prepared statement and Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, asked "how long it was after that conversation that you made up this memorandum?"

"I made notes as soon as I got out of the place," Holdridge said, "and made up this typed account later. Spellacy heard all the conversation, Holdridge said. McLean got in touch with the attorney general, Holdridge went on, called in W. J. Burns, and Muma went to talk with Burns."

Burns said at the beginning of the interview:

"If you are trying to intercede for Tex Rickard it is no use, for I am going to send him to Atlanta."

Muma was quoted then as saying that Burns had walked around his office and declared that everybody around the department seemed to know what was happening except himself.

After this interview, Muma, the witness said, "went back to New York with an easier mind."

"Did he tell you that Burns had given assurance of personal safety?" Jones asked.

"He did not say that; just that his mind was easier."

"Was Muma ever prosecuted?" Senator Wheeler asked.

"Not to my knowledge."

"It was just the gents who were prosecuted?"

"That was all."

The witness, now a claim examiner for the United States Fidelity and Deposit Co. at Baltimore, said his connection as special agent for the department of justice was between October 1920 and 1922, during which time he was stationed at Albany.

He went to New York City, however, Holdridge said, and he and another agent, Thomas H. Spellacy, while investigating a lottery, called on Jay Muma, Cincinnati Enquirer correspondent, at Spellacy's suggestion. Muma previously had been named as one of the film exhibition syndicate. Muma told him, the witness said, that he believed another agent was looking for a "shake-down."

FRIENDLY TO DAUGHERTY

Muma, also mentioned, he said, that he was "very friendly with Mr. Burns and also Mr. Daugherty."

Senator Wheeler, the committee investigator, told the witness to tell in detail of the conversation with Muma.

"Muma talked general topics and finally asked if I was acquainted with a man in the secret service with an odd foreign name," Holdridge replied. "I gave him several but they did not seem to fit in with the one he had in mind."

"What did Muma say as to his acquaintanceship with the attorney general?"

"He told me he was acquainted with him and seemed to want to impress me with that fact."

Later on, Holdridge said, he submitted a report on his conversation with Muma to W. J. Burns.

LETTERS PRODUCED

Muma produced two letters signed by the attorney general during his conversation, the witness said. Muma "flushed" them but did not let him read them. They began "My dear Muma" and were on department stationery, he continued, and the gist of them appeared to be "replying to Muma asking for help for some one in the way of promotion or otherwise."

"I think they referred to persons in the postoffice department," said Holdridge.

Spellacy told him, the witness said, "that the man at the head of the whole thing—the fight film conspiracy—was Jay Muma."

Spellacy also said he had been told the whole story of the film affair, Holdridge said, and Muma later himself told him the details, involving Quimby and others, Holdridge later was told by Muma, he said, that the attorney general was the head of the whole conspiracy and that William J. Burns was "standing in" on it.

After he returned to Albany, the witness said, he mentioned to Spellacy that he was preparing a report on the Dempsey-Carpenter fight film case.

"With some excitement," he testified, "Spellacy told me the man at the head of the whole thing was Jay Muma. I took him to a quiet place and told him to tell all about it."

Holdridge's testimony followed in many particulars that of Quimby, who was on the stand Saturday. He had told the committee Muma and others made an agreement for exhibition of the films without department of justice interference and that money was paid out in connection with the agreement. Another witness last week, Gaston B. Means, testified that while he was employed as a department of justice agent he received and turned over to Jesse Smith, Daugherty's personal aide, large sums of money on account of the fight films.

MISS STINSON TO BE CALLED

Miss Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of Jesse W. Smith, who committed suicide in Attorney General Daugherty's apartment a year ago, and Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, are to be questioned further. Miss Stinson has obtained from Ohio a number of letters and telegrams she received from Smith. Senator Wheeler plans to put her back on the stand tomorrow or Wednesday, resuming the examination of Means afterwards.

An offer of assistance on behalf of the Citizens' Research Bureau by Frank Vanderlip, New York banker whose address caused a sensation, has been accepted by Senator Wheeler.

Referring to statements issued by Daugherty, Senator Wheeler last night declared "the attorney general performs a very poor service for himself by his attacks and slanders on the witnesses. Means, he said, was employed by Daugherty in the department of justice, and Miss Stinson was good enough to associate with the attorney general, his brother and his closest friends."

COOLIDGE EXPLAINS BAN ON WHITE HOUSE SPEECHES

WASHINGTON—President Coolidge's action in cutting short Saturday a program of addresses at his reception to the Oberammergau Passion Players brought an explanation from the White House today and stirred up a debate in the senate.

In a letter to Anton Lang, the "Christus" of the players, Mr. Coolidge expressed pleasure that the visitors had come to the White House and set forth that the only reason for the incident was the fact that it is not permissible for the president to receive public addresses from people of other nations except thru diplomatic channels.

The incident was taken up in the senate by Senator Dill, Democrat, of Washington, who said he regretted that the president "had not taken a broader and more humane view of the delegation's plea in behalf of suffering German children."

$10,000 MODERN HOUSE. Permit for erection of a seven-story modern house on S. Cole-st. at an estimated cost of $10,000 was issued Monday to W. M. Neely, 729 Drice-av., at city hall.

Permit was also granted C. W. Hamilton, 568 S. Scott-st., to repair his house to the extent of $750.

HANGS SELF

MARYSVILLE — John Fish, 30, wealthy farmer of near Ostrander, ended his life by hanging himself with a rope in a barn on his farm early today. Ill health is assigned as the cause. The body was discovered by his son.

AMENDMENT VOTED DOWN

WASHINGTON—The senate refused today by a vote of 70 to 4 to approve a proposed constitutional amendment limiting the president to one term of four years.

SIX GIVEN TERMS IN JAIL

Stories of Trouble Told in Defense of Crimes

Deportation proceedings may be instituted by Prosecuting Attorney Lippincott against several aliens indicted by the grand jury, several of whom were sentenced to prison Monday.

The list of foreigners, includes George Phillips, said to be a Greek, John May, Canadian; John Lewis, colored, Jamaican; Arthur Ricketts, colored, Nova Scotian; Louis Vallis, Italian; Peter Oper, Rumanian, and several others.

In cases where the time limit for deportation has not expired, Lippincott will act he declares. The proceedings will be under the undesirable alien act.

SIX SENTENCED. Sentences were imposed on six men Monday and one other case was continued for investigation.

George Phillips, 35, former chef at an E. High-st restaurant pleaded guilty to two check charges and burglary. He drew a two-year term in Ohio state penitentiary.

Phillips told the court that he burglarized Moore brothers shoe shop and stole $15 because his wife was starving. She is an English woman. Restitution has been made in part in the check cases, the court was informed.

Art Opperman, 23, drew a year in penitentiary, on his admission that he forged the name of William Behm, to an order and pass book and drew $140 from a south side bank.

He is a former offender, having been released from Mansfield reformatory only a year ago, after serving 15 months on a similar charge.

John Lewis, colored, and John May white, were sentenced to 30 days each in Toledo workhouse. They were charged with stealing an express package.

"We couldn't find work and were hungry," they told the court.

GETS YEAR IN PEN. John Walker, colored, was sentenced to one year in Ohio state penitentiary on his plea of guilty on charge of carrying concealed weapons. Three charges of shooting with intent to kill were nolle.

Walker will be taken to Columbus Tuesday. His presence in jail is a menace to public health, Sheriff Crosson told the court.

Art Ricketts, 55, colored, native of Nova Scotia, and for 20 years a deep water sailor, drew a one year term for forgery.

"I had been drinking ever since Christmas," he told the court, and did not know what I was doing. Before that I was dry for 15 years."

Harry Bradford, 21, of 136 E. Elm-st., may be given leniency, if his case warrants, Judge Becker indicated.

TELLS SAD STORY

A sad story was told by the boy, who was married three years ago, and has been struggling to win a livelihood since. His wife and a little babe born in a girl's rescue home in Columbus Jan. 16, are without aid.

Harry told the court he forged the name of J. Meyerson, junk dealer, to a check and raised $35 to buy a suit to go and see his wife. He gave part of the money to Mrs. Nettie Miller, probation officer, to pay his wife's expenses.

"I had worked four hours in the cold piling junk," Harry told the court. "He gave me 50 cents. I was cold and hungry, and Mrs. Miller was after me for money. It was then I wrote the check."

WORK STARTS IN ROOM FOR INDUSTRIAL DISPLAY

Complete plans for Lima's industrial exhibit at the Argonne hotel will be outlined Tuesday night by the Business and Professional Women's club in semi-annually session.

After the visit to Middletown where an industrial display was seen by the club's industrial committee negotiations were started with local manufacturers and the enthusiasm in which they entered in the project caused the club to arrange for the exhibit, which will be a permanent one, Miss Irene Clark, chairman of the committee, announced.

Work of remodeling the basement room at the hotel was started Monday and other details in arrangement of exhibits and time of the opening of the display to the public will be completed at the meeting Tuesday night.

ST. PATRICK DAY PARADE HELD

Irish Factions Unite in Annual Celebration

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) — The annual parade on Fifth-av was the feature of the St. Patrick Day celebration here today.

Egan Clancy, president of the Irish Republican Labor Alliance, characterized the celebration as a further step for "politicians and office-holders in control of the Irish organization here to gain notoriety."

Eamon De Valera's followers also took no part in the celebration. Organizers of the parade, said, however, that factional differences of past years had been forgotten and that today's parade would be the largest and most representative ever held in the city, being largely reminiscent of the part played by the Irish-Americans in the world war.

CELEBRATE IN ENGLAND. LONDON — (Associated Press) — St. Patrick's Day is being celebrated all over Great Britain and Ireland today with customary enthusiasm.

With Ireland once more peaceful, Britishers donned the shamrock and green neckties, as of old, annexing the Irish national holiday as a celebration of their own.

Tonight there will be many St. Patrick's Day balls and banquets. At Wellington barracks, the Irish guards paraded to receive Queen Alexandra's annual gift of shamrock, the army authorities permitting Irish soldiers to wear their national emblem with uniform on this day only.

Field Marshal The Earl of Ypres (better known as Sir John French) as colonel in chief, reviewed the regiment and superintended the distribution of the shamrocks.

GOVERNOR ON TRIAL. INDIANAPOLIS — Warren T. McCray, governor of Indiana, today stood trial in the Marion-co criminal court on an indictment returned against him by the grand jury charging embezzlement of $155,000 from the state board of agriculture.

Archbishops Arrive. ROME — American Archbishop Hayes and Mundelein who are to be elevated to the cardinalate, arrived here today with suites. Monsignor O'Hernan and Prelate of the American college were in the fore of a throng which gave the Americans an enthusiastic welcome at the station.

FINES FOLLOW SUNDAY RAID

Police Outwit Signal System, In- vade Gaming Quarters

Eight fines—six for gambling, one for running a gambling place and one on a liquor charge—were the result of a police raid Sunday on what they say has been one of the "best covered" places in the city.

In making the arrests police had to make their way, they say, past a tobacco and refreshment stand into a heavily barred, sound proof basement room.

As one policeman stopped the man at the counter from passing the signal to the basement, the others in the raiding squad rushed below and smashed thru the door while the men were still at play.

The alarm system consists of flashing a light in the gambling room from a button at the cigar counter as stranger appears. Police on this occasion were too quick for the signal to be given.

Those arrested included a colored man who showed up at the place after the police had taken the others to the station and had returned to destroy the signal system. He did not know the officers and said he wanted to play poker the latter say. On the way to jail he broke a bottle which police said contained liquor. The man pleaded guilty to the liquor charge.

Those arrested are: P. R. Landrie, 33, of 100 E. Circular-st, alleged proprietor, fined $100 on a charge of operating a gambling room and released under $1,000 bond on a charge of possessing liquor unlawfully.

James Mushaw, 26, colored, of Alger, fined $100 for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor.

Eddie Brooks, 31, of 517 McKenna-av, Marion Star, 35, of 745 S. Main-st, Clarence Star, 35, of 970 S. Main-st; Joseph Weising, 38, of 105 Euclid-av; Gus Brown, 42, 1015 S. Main-st, and A. B. Grant, 62, of Celina, each fined $50 for gambling.

The raid was made at 671 S. Main-st.

SCIENCE VS. DEATH IS BIG FIGHT

U. S. Posts News On How Goss
Battle Against Disease

FIGURES ARE ENCOURAGING

War On Some Enemies Winning
But On Others Losing

WASHINGTON — (United Press) — Once a year Uncle Sam posts the returns from the relentlessly waged battle between science and disease and death.

To his legions of physicians he says:

"You are winning here," or "You are losing there." And in the sectors where the fight is going in their favor, they press it more vigorously, confident of their tactics. Where it is going against them, they take counsel and seek new methods of attack.

Uncle Sam, thru his census bureau, has just published the returns for the year 1922. Battle lines are being reformed accordingly.

Science and medicine, his figures show, are slowly winning against tuberculosis, the dread "white plague," which, for so many years, took the heaviest toll of all diseases; against diseases of early infancy, and those which permanently impair little children sometimes, such as scarlet fever, whooping cough, and diphtheria; against typhoid fever, puerperal septicemia, and in preventing death thru certain "accidental" causes.

NOT SO GOOD

But, according to his returns, the battle is not going so well against other major diseases. The fight seems to be losing against diseases of the heart, influenza and pneumonia, nephritis and Bright's diseases, cancer, diabetes, syphilis and many forms of accidental death.

The death rate of the 37 states of the United States which comprise the death registration area of the nation, from which the census bureau's figures are drawn, in 1922, was 11.5 per 100,000, a slight increase over the low rate of 11.6, established in the preceding year. Actual deaths numbered 1,101,863 in 1922 against 1,032,009 in 1921.

To a heavy increase in the death rate from influenza and pneumonia, which jumped 50 per cent in 1922 over 1921, the bureau attributes the entire increase in the national death rate in 1922.

Yet the figures for the nation as a whole are so encouraging as to cause medical officials of the government to regard the relatively poor showing against the major diseases, excluding tuberculosis, with equanimity.

LIFE LONGER

Losses sustained against heart disease, nephritis and cancer, they say, are, in themselves, an indication of general progress in the battle. Where people are living, to the age at which they are liable to these diseases, they contend, and in great measure their increase indicates, not so much that the diseases are on the upgrade, but that science has prolonged many lives to years in which these diseases make progress. A quarter century ago the death rate was 20 per 100,000; now it is 11.5.

So the battle continues. In recent years, the average life has been lengthened by it from 42 years to 47 years, according to the insurance companies who deal in death. Science will confine itself to further study of those recalcitrant ailments which now seem to take the crowning years of life, with the expectancy of raising the average human life well above the Biblical three score and ten. The goal now set is 75 years. Uncle Sam will tabulate the progress toward it.

ARGANBRIGHT'S OFFICES
MAY GO TO HOLMES-BLDG.

Offices of C. A. Arganbright, county superintendent of schools, may be located in the Holmes-Bldg. county commissioners declared Monday. Quarters now occupied by Prof. Arganbright in Memorial hall, must be vacated May 1 to make room for the Alliance Historical society exhibits.

A resolution determining to oust the school head and Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health officer, was presented to the commissioners several days ago. It has been passed and placed on record.

Under the law the county is required to provide quarters for the health officer.

Commissioners say they would rather have the school superintendent in an office building downtown, than in the court house.

ARMENBOUT SERVICES

Funeral services for Andrew J. Armenbout, who died Saturday at his home, 104 Harrison-av., will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the church of Brethren with Rev. George in charge. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the heating ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

SHOCKED 'EM!

It was quite a jolt to faculty members to behold William Kerr and Priscilla Ferry, University of Chicago students, in this hugging picture. Now, William and Priscilla have quit the Dramatic Club's play, "Mary the Third," in which they were to appear as Cate-Bater and Sheba. Kerr and Miss Ferry contend publication of the picture as publicity was unauthorized.

MONDAY

The Best Thing in Life is Love

Read Mt. 22:34-46. Text: 22:37-39. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

"So far as we can now see there can never be anything better for any personal being than to love God and all other beings. So the objective held up in the teachings of Jesus, it would seem, cannot be outgrown. There may be great advances made in strengthening the heart of love, extending its scope and increasing the efficiency of its expression, but there is nothing better conceivable than love."

MEDITATION: As we study the life and teachings of Jesus we find that the one thing that life is to produce is character. Along with this discovery we also learn that the means by which God inspires his children to achieve character is love, that is, that love is the best thing in life and that only thru active love can true character be achieved.

PERSONAL QUESTION: What does God's love mean to me?

PRAYER: Eternal God, may thy love become a great assurance. May we walk in the light of thy fellowship and not be afraid. Let us know that thy protecting love is about us and that underneath us are thine everlasting arms. Amen.

When Women Begin To Lose Youth and Charm

Dr. Frederic S. Kelle, the New York author of medical text books, whose opinions are greatly valued writes: "When the nerve tissues begin to lose their vitality, women begin to lose their youth and attractiveness. Her lively, pleasant disposition fades away—she becomes irritable, moody and despondent. It would be a godsend if more men and women were aware of the efficiency of Nitro-Phosphate. Thousands of thin, run-down people whose nervous energy is nearly exhausted, are turning to Nitro-Phosphate as dispensed by all good druggists because it revitalizes the nerves and brings back energy and mental keenness.—Adv.

ESTATE DIVISION AWAITS HEIRS

Brother and Niece of Eunice Reeler Being Sought

Division of the estate of the late Eunice Reeler, 424 N. McDonel-st cannot be made until two heirs at law, entitled to a share in her property are found.

The missing heirs are Henry Rocky, a brother, and Belle Ullery, 21, a niece. Eight other persons are entitled to a share in the property.

Watson Rocky, 524 E. Market-st, who was appointed administrator of the estate, will make a search for the missing heirs. Their present whereabouts are a mystery, and in making the application for appointment of an administrator it was stated that their residence is unknown.

Other heirs are Mrs. Jennie Null, Martha C. McKee and Grace Macken, Hartford City, Ind.; J. W. Rocky, Christianburg, O.; William O. Rocky, Lima; Mae Belle Freese, Tippacanoe City.

Value of the estate is listed at $3,000, and bond was offered in the sum of $6,000 by the administrator when he was appointed in probate court.

TENNIS COURTS FOR CITY PARK ALMOST CERTAINTY

Use of a section of Faurot park for six tennis courts is to be granted Monday night by city commission to I. W. Green and C. W. Scheidt of Lima Tennis club, it was stated at city hall.

Two of the six courts are to be donated to the city for use as public courts and four retained by the club to revert to the city in five years.

Nearly 100 members are enrolled in the tennis club and they plan to start work immediately on the courts if the commission approves the request.

"My Rheumatism is gone—"

There's glorious joy in knowing this—that more Red-Blood-Cells stops Rheumatism and that S.S.S. builds Blood-Cells!

"There are thousands of you men and women, just like myself, slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for 15 years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S.S.S. Say what you will, I never knew such startling results were possible. Well, folks, besides knocking out my rheumatism it gave me back some of the strength I used to have way back! I've got a better color in my face, my appetite is dandy. I don't use my crutches any more. I'm walking around straight-up on two young legs! S.S.S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. By building blood-cells it builds nerve strength for young folks who ought to have more, and for older people who have little. It stops pimples, boils, blackheads, eczema, chases away blood impurities. You can always rely on it. Start S.S.S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical.

S.S.S. makes you feel like yourself again

Kugelman Says—

There is no excuse for men, women, and children of Lima and vicinity, not having new Spring outfits this season.

They don't need the cash at our store—all they have to do is to come in, select their apparel and say charge it—we will trust you.

SOCIALISTS LOSE HEAVILY AT MUNICIPAL ELECTION

POTSDAM, Prussia. — A decided swing to the right was shown in the Potsdam municipal election yesterday, complete returns today indicating that the Socialists and Communists had lost approximately sixty per cent of their strength as recorded by the poll of 1919. Zest was added to the election by the presence of ex-Crown Prince Frederick William, who however, refrained from any active part.

The population which consists mainly of ex-officers of the army, retired officials of the old imperial government, officeholders and members of the aristocracy, took a keen interest.

EUREKA AVENUE WOMAN MAKES IMPORTANT STATEMENT

"In my opinion," says Mrs. O. L. Pugh, "the people of Lima are indeed fortunate in being able to take Peppen, this new medicine that is being introduced at Hunter's Drug Store.

"For months," continued Mrs. Pugh, "I was in a terribly run down condition. I had lost all desire to eat. What food I did put in my stomach would not agree with me. After my meals I would have attacks of gas. It would bloat me up and press up against my heart.

"I felt tired and draggy all the time. I did not have enough ambition to do much of anything.

"Just about a month ago I read in The Lima News about this Peppen that is being introduced at Hunter's Drug Store. It was highly recommended by many Lima people, so I started taking it.

"I too am now glad to recommend Peppen. It has certainly done me lots of good. I feel better now than I have in months. My appetite is wonderful and I am never troubled with indigestion. I sleep well at night. In the morning I get up fresh and without that tired draggy feeling I used to have.

"Any woman who is in a run down condition like I was should certainly begin taking this medicine."

CAUTION: The genuine Peppen which Mrs. Pugh has recommended, may be obtained in Lima only at the Hunter Drug Store, 49 Public Square and corner Main and Wayne-sts, and the Argonne Store, opposite Post Office. There is a Peppen store in every nearby town.

U.S. ARMY FLIERS OFF TO CIRCUIT GLOBE

GREATEST OF AIR TRIPS BEGUN

Four Planes Start Around World From California

FIRST EVER ATTEMPTED

Thousands Gather to Bid the Airmen God-speed

CLOVER FIELD, SANTA MONICA, Calif. — (United Press) — A flight around the world, the dream of aviators since man first flew, started today when three United States army planes took off from Clover field.

A fourth plane will follow shortly. The aircraft will fly northward and westward to cross 9,000 miles of time and 23 countries on their journey which it is expected, will take four months.

The weather condition, the greatest concern of airmen, were favorable to the start.

"We have implicit confidence in our plans," Major Frederick L. Martin, commanding the world flight fliers, said just before the flight began.

Tonight the airmen will sleep in Sacramento, where they will land this afternoon. On Tuesday they fly to Vancouver, B. C., and on Wednesday complete the first main leg of their flight by landing in Seattle.

Not a military quest was this, but a pilgrimage of peace—the start of the United States Army Air Service airplanes on the first round-the-world flight ever attempted.

With motors tuned to the point of perfect adjustment and with the pick of the service's flying men snuggled into the cockpits, the big Douglas world cruisers glided smoothly across the field and "took off" to a perfect start.

It was a gala day at Clover Field. Thousands of Southern Californians had motored to the spot to bid the airmen God-speed and witness the beginning of the flight which was to make history.

As the planes circled the field, with the cheers of the multitude below arising in such volume as to seem to pierce the purr of the motors and be heard by the fliers who manned the aircraft, scores of escort planes "hopped off" as well and flew alongside and behind the army machines.

Many of the well-wishers planned to accompany the world-around fliers as far north as San Francisco.

Commanding the flight is Major Frederick L. Martin. Other pilots are Lieuts. Leigh Wade, L. A. Smith and Erik Nelson. Alternate pilots are Lieuts. Leslie P. Arnold and LeClare Schulz. All are the pick of the service, chosen for their knowledge of the task before them.

HOURS OF PREPARATION
The fliers have been here since the latter part of February, stopping in Hollywood, and spending long hours each day at the field watching construction of the planes and lending their suggestions.

They were guests of Los Angeles and other nearby cities at several functions preceding today's memorable commencement of their voyage over the uncharted routes of the air.

Watching the "take-off" today with perhaps the greatest interest of all, was D. W. Douglas, local designer and builder of the Douglas world cruisers.

The Douglas planes were selected for the historic flight after Air Service engineers agreed that they were the most practicable for the purpose.

The first of the number was built at the company's Santa Monica factory, near here, some months ago, and flown to Dayton by Lieutenant Nelson.

That officer, who is squadron engineering authority on the long journey starting today, put the test plane thru a number of proofs of its ability, which influenced selection of the Douglas cruiser for the trip.

They are standard planes thrust, but with a number of unique features which enable them to make tremendously long flights without landing.

Each will be equipped with either wheels or pontoons, and both will be used on the flight.

ON LAND OR SEA
As land planes, one of the cruisers weighs 6,915 pounds, as sea planes 7,715. The wing spread is 50 feet, with both upper and lower wings equal in size. The length is 35 feet 6 inches, while the gasoline capacity is 450 gallons. As seaplanes the cruisers can make 100 miles an hour and as land planes 103 miles an hour.

Northward thru California the air pioneers traveled today, cheered along the route by citizens who waved them forward with prayers for success.

Using their wheel landing gear, the course will lie toward Seattle via San Francisco, Ashland, Ore., and Eugene, Ore. At Seattle the wheels will be removed and pontoons substituted for the second leg of the journey northward along the coast of Canada and Alaska, across the Aleutian Islands, down over Japan to Nagasaki and along the coast of French Indo-China, Siam and Burma to Calcutta, India.

At Calcutta the wheels will be placed for the long trip over the British All-Red route across India, then north thru Persia to Turkey, and over the continental air lanes to Hull, England.

Once more the landing gear will be changed, pontoons being substituted at Hull for the long water voyage ahead. North along the coast of Scotland, the planes will touch at Faroe Islands and go on across the water spaces to Iceland, thence further across the Atlantic to Greenland and southeast to Hamilton Inlet, on the coast of Labrador.

From there the last leg of the flight will be down the Canadian Coast to Washington and, perhaps, back to Los Angeles, completing the world journey.

SIX DIVISIONS
The flight has been divided into six divisions—from Clover Field to Attu, Alaska, in the Aleutian group; to Nagasaki, Japan; to Calcutta, India; to Constantinople; to Hull, England; to Washington and, although it has not yet been determined, perhaps back to Los Angeles.

A complete chain of liaison relief has been stretched around the world course, with spare parts, including even extra motors, awaiting a call for service should one of the planes be wrecked or damaged.

In charge of these depots are experienced mechanics, expert in building the Douglas cruisers, who have gone on ahead arranging all details, such as landing fields, fuel supplies, route markings and the like.

At each place where pontoons will be substituted for wheels, or wheels for pontoons, the extra equipment is already in place ready for use when the air crusaders loom out of the eastern skies and descend.

Permission has been secured by the State Department in Washington for the planes to fly over every country along the route and make landings where necessary.

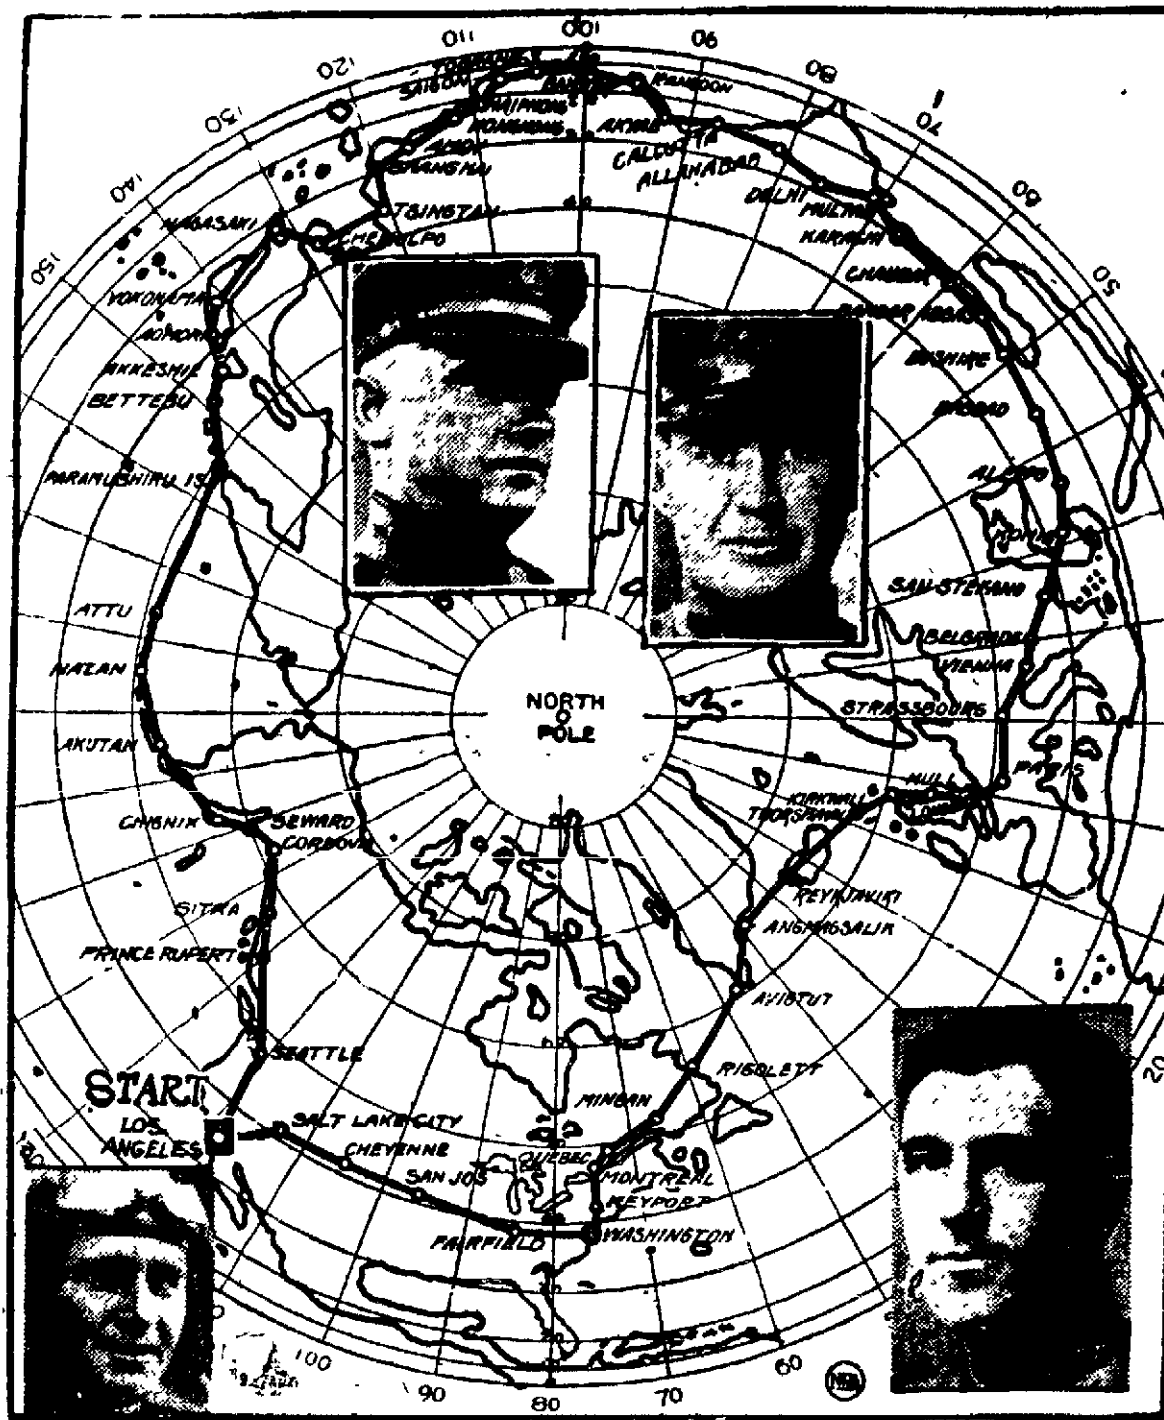

NOT A RACE
The globe-circling tour is not to be a race. This has been repeatedly declared by army authorities supervising the flight. There is no flight against time contemplated. In fact, six months have been allotted for the trip, if that much time is needed.

Rather is the journey an expedition of progress to demonstrate the possibility and feasibility of commercial and passenger airplane transportation, even to the extent of establishing regular around-the-world service.

It is a hazardous jaunt, this trail-breaking expedition around the globe, but the United States Army Air Service is used to dangers. If the flight is successful it will be but another laurel added to the wreath of America's progress in aeronautics—where this science has its birth.

But whether successful or not, the intrepid birdmen who are winging northward today have behind them the hopes of a nation—best wishes for success and an urge for victory.

FINDLAY COLLEGE HEAD TO ADDRESS KIWANIS

Dr. Wm. H. Guyer, president of Findlay College, has been secured by the Lima Kiwanis club as speaker at its weekly meeting Tuesday noon at Barr Hotel. His subject has not been announced. Prof. F. J. Balmond, who is conducting the singing at Trinity M. E. church during the evangelistic campaign, will sing for the club. The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the club will be held at the Barr Monday at 7 p. m.

TWO FIRE CALLS
Firemen responded to two fires Sunday morning caused by sparks from the flue. One at 8 14 a. m. at the home of Fred Rambo, 126 W. Haller-st. No damage. The other call came in at 9 02 a. m. from the home of John Flaido, 754 S. Atlantic, where the sparks caused about $2 damage.

RESTAURANT ENTERED
Early Sunday morning the Home restaurant was broken into, 50 cents and three pies were taken by the intruders. Entrance was gained thru the front door, either with a skeleton key or by picking the lock, police say.

DELBERT M. NYE, 60, DIES AT HOME IN SHAWNEE-TP
Delbert M. Nye, 60, farmer and pioneer resident of Allen-co, died Sunday night at his home in Shawnee township from cerebral hemorrhage. He had been ill only two days.

Nye was born on the same farm on which he died. He is survived by the widow; one daughter, Mrs. Winifred Lones, at home, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Hoover, of Lima and Mrs. Hattie Freese, of Houston, Texas and a brother, C. L. Nye, of Perry-tp.

Services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Shawnee church, with Rev. O. E. Smith, of Cridersville in charge. Interment will be in Shawnee cemetery.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair
Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient to cleanse your hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

EX-CROWN PRINCE GOES TO WORK

Frederick William of Germany Selling Farm Machinery

RECOGNIZED AT MOVIES

Fails in Attempt to Conceal His Identity

LONDON — (Associated Press) — The former German Crown Prince is now selling farm machinery and is living at the home of his brother, Elfed Frederick, at Potsdam with his wife and family, according to the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent.

Moved by Frederick William's plea that his fortune had suffered the same as everybody else's thru the fall of the mark, the government gave him permission to go to Berlin and enter business.

At first he tried to conceal his identity from the public but when he took the princess to the movies Sunday the pair were recognized and greeted with cheers.

Frederick William also took his family for an automobile drive along Unter den Linden in the afternoon and walked the streets alone but escaped recognition on these occasions.

The correspondent says his prospects of success are bright, since all landlords are staunch monarchists and many are personally known to the prince.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

OIL PROBES TURN TO STOCK DEALS

Senate Investigation to be Resumed Tomorrow

SENATOR WALSH RECOVERING

Will Also Dig Into Leonard Wood's Political Story

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — With Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, chief prosecutor of the oil inquiry, recovering from the bronchial trouble which caused a sudden suspension of the hearings Friday, the investigation committee is expected tomorrow to enter upon the last phases of its work.

Members of the committee have forecast that all evidence will be in the record by the end of the month.

Senator Walsh plans to start tomorrow with the auditor's report, on oil stock deals here, at New York and at Cleveland by government officials. He intends then to take up the suggestions contained in the statement of Leonard Wood, Jr., that his father was offered support for the presidential nomination during the 1920 Republican national convention on condition that he agree to give the interior secretaryship if elected to Jake Hamon, Oklahoma oil man and politician who was later killed.

The committee also intends to examine Harry F. Sinclair again and question James G. Darden with reference among other things to the efforts of the Mutual Oil Co. to establish a claim on Teapot Dome which brought about the use of marines to evict its workmen.

SUMMARY OF PROBES' WORK
WASHINGTON — (United Press) — With court proceedings begun, one member of the cabinet ousted and another under fire, the Teapot Dome committee today approached the end of its sensational investigation.

This is what the five months probe of the leasing of naval reserve lands by former Secretary of the Interior Fall has accomplished:

1—Cancellation of the leases and promise to cancel the leases and promise of criminal proceedings against at least three of the principals. Government counsel have begun court action at Cheyenne, on Teapot Dome and are in Los Angeles today to bring suits in the Doheny leases.

2—Resignation of Secretary Denby who signed the leases and investigation of the official acts of Attorney General Daugherty now under way by a separate senate committee.

3—Testimony showing that A. B. Fall who leased the reserve got big loans from E. L. Doheny and later from Harry F. Sinclair.

CITY BREAKS GROUND IN WATER EXTENSION WORK

First work on the $75,000 water main extension program for the year started Monday morning on E. Elm-st under direction of Charles Evans, waterworks superintendent.

Upon completion of the Elm-st extension workmen will complete work on N. Central-av and N. Union-st and finish all six inch extensions in the north section of the city before installing larger services.

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. EVA YOHE, 42

Mrs. Eva Yohe, 42, wife of Elbert Yohe, 323 Holmes-av, died Sunday at the City hospital following an illness of six months from a complication of diseases.

She was born in Chatagnac, Kansas, November 24, 1882 and was a member of the Rebecca Lodge. In addition to the husband, she is survived by one son, James L. Yohe, at home.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at the Second-st M. E. church. Burial will be in Shawnee cemetery.

PRINCE OF WALES HURT IN SIXTEENTH FALL

LONDON — His face and hands covered with court plaster, the Prince of Wales was able to return to St. James' Palace today from a fall.

The heir to the British throne was to be kept under physician care for a few days. In a steep chase accident last Saturday he was thrown and kicked in the face by his mount.

Aside from a cut over one eye, which may leave a scar, a slight cut on his chin and the skinning of his face and hands, the prince came off lucky from this, his sixteenth serious fall.

A renewed clamor has been raised by the press, however, in protest against Wales risking his neck in daring sleigh chase and hunting stunts.

AVIATORS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN PLANE CRASH

TOLEDO — Two army aviators from Selfridge Field near Mount Clemens, Mich., had narrow escapes from death when their plane crashed onto the ice in Maumee Bay late Friday, it became known today.

The crash came shortly after the aviators had stopped at the Cleveland air mail field for gasoline and oil in order to complete their trip. Both aviators were thrown out but escaped with slight bruises. Two hours later almost exhausted with cold and exposure, they reached a fisherman's hut at Woodtick, where they spent the night. They returned to Mount Clemens late Saturday.

She has tried Cod Liver Oil, but the ill-smelling, nasty tasting stuff upset her stomach and made her feel worse than before.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamins that make flesh, create appetite, builds up the power to resist disease and chases a way nervousness.

But it's horrible tasting stuff and every day fewer people are taking it for doctors are prescribing and the people are fast learning that they can get better results with McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, which Hunter's Drug Stores, Enterprise Drug Store and druggists all over the country are having a tremendous demand for.

It's a wonderful upbuilding medicine for children, especially after sickness, and sixty tablets only cost 60 cents.

One woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days and if any skinny man or woman can't put on 5 pounds in 30 days, your druggist will gladly return the purchase price.

COLDS FELT LIKE ROCK IN STOMACH

Down in Bed for Days At a Time Before She Took the Plant Juice

SUFFERING IS GONE NOW

The Plant Juice Man, who is well known in this city, was in the far south, at Houston, Texas, recently and while there he received the following remarkable statement regarding the surprising power and efficacy of his celebrated medicine, Plant

Juice, in cases of stomach troubles. The statement was made by Mrs. J. H. Carey, popular and well known lady of Houston, living at 2410 Spring-st, that city.

"For five or six years I had been suffering the most terrible kind of agony with my stomach," said Mrs. Carey. "I had awful bloating and attacks of gas, together with bad pains. At times I would get down in bed for days at a stretch. I couldn't eat without awful misery in my stomach and finally got so that all I could eat was milk and bread and even that felt like rocks in my stomach. I had pains in my head and dizzy spells and was so nervous that I could not sleep. In mornings, I got up feeling just as tired as when I went to bed and with even more aches and pains over my body."

"I heard so much about your Plant Juice medicine that I started taking it and I want to say that the change it made in me is nothing short of wonderful. I can now eat anything I want without any bad effects. My nerves are in good condition; I sleep fine and the aches and pains over my body are gone. The truth is that I can hardly realize the great change Plant Juice made in me and I recommend it to every sufferer, especially people who have stomach trouble, for it surely is wonderful in its action."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne-sts, and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Postoffice.

PUBLIC IS WARNED OF DANGER

Kansas Governor Sees Disaster
Threat in Oil Scandal

"CONFIDENCE IS SHAKEN"

Daily Call Issued by Presidential Aspirant

FORT SCOTT, Kan., (United Press)—A "dirt farmer" whose aspirations for the Democratic presidential nomination are being fostered by many party leaders throughout the middle west today issued a freedom call for "all champions of freedom, equality, humanity and justice" to restore confidence in government.

Jonathan M. Davis, governor of Kansas, who bucked 800 acres of farm land all his life, with a small mixture of politics during the last quarter of a century, issued the call. In an article written for the United Press, he stated the recent scandals exposed in Washington had "shaken" the confidence of the people and the republic is in danger.

Written in the farm home near here which the Davis family of typical midwest pioneer stock, has occupied for 30 years, the article follows:

(BY JONATHAN M. DAVIS)
Confidence in government must be restored.

The cry of "traitor in camp" has been heard on all sides, during the last few weeks. The fifth that has been spouting from the Tappan Dome scandals has shaken the confidence of the people until the republic is in danger, and the sacred fires of freedom are about to be extinguished.

It is time the voice of the people be heard, demanding political action that will restore confidence in our government. It is time for all champions of freedom, equality, humanity and justice, to rally.

The time has come when the nation must not delay action that will put out and keep out of public office all who are themselves dishonest or excusing those who have been unfaithful to the sacred trust imposed upon those who hold public office. Graders great and small must go that free government may live. Cabinet officers betraying the confidence of their chief, basely bartering away for private or political gain the naval oil reserves, that might determine whether success or defeat, life or death, freedom or slavery, happiness or degradation, prosperity or poverty, shall be the lot of our children in the exigencies the future holds in store for our country, is a crime against which which treason is tame. No words can fully express the measure of guilt and shame that should be visited on all such as have participated in or condoned this offense.

GIRLS WARNED AGAINST MARRYING FOREIGNERS

LONDON—The increasing number of marriages between English girls and men of foreign nationality is viewed with some alarm by the authorities.

These mixed marriages mostly take place in registrars' offices, but many occur in churches. "We are bound by law to marry them," said a registrar, "and all we can do is to point out to the bride the serious business of the marriage and give her some idea of the customs prevailing in the country to which the man belongs. From my experience not one in ten of these mixed marriages turns out happily."

Freshmen students then will be offered the course of studies considered most helpful to the business or profession favored. The plan was proposed by Dr. J. R. Young, professor of psychology.

"FAVENLY TWINS" AIR PERFORMERS

They Are Parachute Testers for Uncle Sam's Navy

LEAP 1,000 FEET TO EARTH

Perilous Business is Described by the Writer

PHILADELPHIA—Leaping 1,000 feet or more to earth at the end of a swaying parachute that may be either good or defective, is the perilous business of "Lucy" and "Filbert," the "heavenly twins" of the naval air service.

The twins claim a certain portion of the naval aircraft factory at the Philadelphia navy yard as their birthplace. For them life is not only a series of ups and downs, but full of many striking incidents, especially when parachutes fail to open.

Named by the air sailors, the twins are singularly unattractive in appearance. Their chances for winning a beauty contest are nil, for their countenances, ashen gray from birth, are kept that way by the hazardous nature of their duties.

Made in the semblance of human form, "Lucy" and "Filbert" weigh respectively 180 and 300 pounds each.

SUMMER COSTUME
They work in the summer flying costume of the air force, but their constitution is said by the sailors to consist mainly of coiled rope covered with canvas, with enough buckshot in their chests to bring them to the specified weights required for parachute-testing dummies.

Leather boots and gloves, and a picturesque loop knot on top of their heads complete their costumes. The loop is their sole means of support—from the parachute.

As soon as the aircraft factory completes a new "Lucy" or "Filbert," the newcomer in aviation is shipped to one of the naval flying stations. They test the parachutes provided for the quick descent of the crew of the airship in case of accident in the clouds. The tests vary. "Lucy" or "Filbert" may be assigned to hurdle downward from a lazily swaying kite balloon, or they may be shoved off the wing of an airplane speeding at 125 miles an hour. Despite their many hard knocks and terrific falls, their friends, the sailors, say they have never failed to report for work the next day.

CITY SEEKS $1,000 ON LICENSES OF PAWN BROKERS

Recovery of approximately $1,000 due the city from the state is sought by Manager C. A. Bingham on pawnbrokers' licenses.

Under section 6339, O. G. C., cities are to obtain 50 percent of all licenses collected by the state commissioner of securities.

Annual license fee of $50 is payable in monthly installments. Four companies operate here and out of the $150 paid to the state $75 of that amount should be paid to cities, Manager Bingham believes.

The state is delinquent in payments for approximately three years, according to information contained in a letter forwarded by Manager Bingham to the state auditor's office in which he asked that an investigation be made and the city reimbursed in the amount due.

Complaints by Citizens

City Manager C. A. Bingham was up in arms Monday morning over repeated complaints filed by citizens against the city's order to the Barr Bakery Co. and the Federal Bakery Co. against ringing of bells on delivery trucks.

Twelve complaints had been aired direct to the city manager the first two hours he was in office.

Orders to the two bakery companies were issued when drivers disregarded the city's agreement which allowed them to ring bells at approach to houses of customers and created a general disturbance by incessant sounding of the bells in vicinity of hospitals and in the business section.

Under a state law and a city ordinance no vehicles are permitted to sound bells or whistles excepting fire apparatus, riot cars and ambulances.

Permission was granted by the city to the bakery companies to use bells providing stops were made at homes and the bells sounded to attract the attention of the customer.

Last Friday afternoon Manager Bingham heard one bakery wagon in front of the city hall sounding the bell to warn other motorists to the side of the street under guise of a fire apparatus.

Last Wednesday afternoon Manager Bingham stated he was driving near St. Rita's hospital and heard a warning bell. He said he thought it was an ambulance and when the vehicle passed he saw it was a bakery wagon.

Many complaints from mothers who claim the bells interrupt the naps of their children have been received by Manager Bingham, who has called

A CRYING NEED

GOVERNMENT is sometimes an unwieldy thing, slow to act in giving justice under certain conditions, but eventually there is witnessed a working out of problems in a satisfactory manner, it must be admitted.

All too long has the state failed to take action in the important matter of providing increased compensation for prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary. It is a subject that is being given considerable discussion at this time, because of the attitude of high officials. Increased pay for these men, employed in productive occupations within the walls, at the prison farm, the brick plant or stone quarry, should be granted without delay, so that wives, parents, children or others dependent on the prisoners shall not become charges on counties, or compelled to suffer unnecessary hardships because of the wrongdoings of the men behind the bars.

This is one of the most humane problems now confronting the commonwealth. Under present conditions when a man is sent to prison, he is assured his bed, board, clothing and a place to sleep. He need only worry over the loss of his liberty so far as his physical welfare is concerned. But his wife and children at home, or others who were dependent on him for actual living expenses are the ones who suffer. They are deprived of their only source of income. Often they are required to go without meals, the children are unable to attend school for lack of clothing and proper nourishment, and practically all the physical and mental suffering caused by crime is borne by those entirely innocent.

Better pay for the prisoners, all monies earned to be promptly remitted to their families, should and probably would be an inducement for better work on the part of the prisoners, and certainly provide greater comfort for the innocent ones at home, who, after all, are the real sufferers.

MAKING LIFE LIKE CLOCKWORK

MATRASSES and bedsprings used to be made in 78 different sizes and styles, but now there are only four kinds. This is a sample of the work done by Uncle Sam's Division of Simplified Practice, organized by Herbert Hoover. This organization induces manufacturers to get together and eliminate unnecessary varieties of articles and sizes.

The idea is to standardize and simplify the manufacture and distribution of commodities. Which, obviously, saves much money and confusion.

Taving bricks have been reduced from 66 styles and sizes to six. Milk bottles are now made in only nine sizes and types, compared with 49 formerly. And there's only one kind of milk bottle cap—doing the work of 29 old-time varieties.

Hotel chinaware is made in 213 varieties, against 700 before Hoover's organization got busy. There are only 496 kinds of files and rasps on the market, where there used to be 1351. So goes the story, standardization conquering thousands of articles and processes.

The work seems barely started. Cotton goods finishers are considering using only 44 colors instead of 900. And so on.

IT'S not many years since people laughed at the efficiency experts who came forward and demonstrated how to drive a nail with three strokes of the hammer instead of half a dozen or so. Similarly, men were shown how to carry more bricks on a load.

Then American industry plunged into a period of "eliminating lost motion and duplication of effort." Short-cuts were sought in every sort of productive process.

The "efficiency craze" spread to the distribution of commodities, especially the sales end. Large corporations installed salesmanship schools in which every possible argument against the firm's product was taken up, and the best answer given. Net result: a prospective customer couldn't raise an objection that wouldn't be answered immediately by the glib tongue of the salesman.

THUS have we moved into an era of efficiency—or, in simpler words, an age of short-cuts. Undoubtedly we're producing more than ever before, and in less time, thanks to efficiency engineers.

But where's the thing going to stop? Life is at least two-thirds a clockwork proposition already. The tendency is growing, to have our hours, habits, recreations and even thoughts regulated by the efficiency experts. The system will not be complete until all men at 50 will be grabbed and given the monkey gland treatment, and the year of death standardized.

Several and divers memories of unpaid chits saluted me at the post. And these all and singly, save to the waste basket. Why worry over big accounts, when you can't pay the small ones? Doctors say it's worry that kills, not debts. My idea of an optimist is to make a cake eating middle aged believe that the size doesn't count.

All the discourse nowadays is the old scandal and the new hospital. The scandal is a fact, but the hospital lacks pep. A correspondent, married woman, wants to know how to make a Bryan cocktail. IT'S JUST AS CONARO SAID

In our last talk about nutrition we considered the case of the college professor who takes fruit, cereal and cream, toast or doughnut, and coffee for breakfast every morning and a run in the park only once or twice a week. The poor fellow is slowly burying himself in fat and already his wife is worried over him.

That famous disciple of longevity, Luigi Cornaro, who not only taught how to live long but did it himself, got off one wise crack which I think will bear quoting here again: "He who would eat much must eat little." Cornaro practiced abstinence in his eating, and sure enough, keep eating for 102 years, which was a tremendous accomplishment for any one 400 years ago; considered in ratio with the average duration of life then and now, it would mean living around 107 years now.

Big eaters are like the good—they die young. Rarely does a very stout person reach a remarkable old age. Nearly all the very old folks who are still alive, not just vegetating, are rather thin.

The average boy or girl of 12 to 18 actually requires more food than the average adult does, and an amount of food which barely suffices for the proper nutrition of a growing boy or girl is likely to make the average sedentary adult grow too fat.

The physiological chemists have found that food enough to yield 3,000 calories maintains an adult doing light indoor work—maintains the normal weight and supplies all the energy required. Now bird collar, with the low sweeping wings. His face on the bar room floor has nothing on Her face on the ball room floor. Neither could get passports as the same people before breakfast.

Advices from Hollywood say it took two weeks to get Dan Kirovin, out, with Ed Hiner urging him every hour. They do do things in noble ways at the picture making capital. Even to murders as a sideline, and bootlegging as a profession.

In the evening dined well, on roasted hen, with dressing; browned sweet potatoes, pineapple salad, and cottage pudding for the sweet. Not being very busy, strolled down and window shopped with my wife. Until she saw a pretty in a window, when my tooth ache started, so got her away.

Home, to read awhile in Vogue. And study the strictly tailored suits, worn with small hats. Very chic, but too mannish to make the license bureau boom. Tiring, strung my mandolin and tried a few of the Whiteman hits. Albeit, turned to Rachmaninoff's prelude, which I couldn't do at all. Disgusted, early to be

Let's see what we have for breakfast.

	Calories
One cup of coffee	none
Two teaspoonfuls of sugar	66
Two tablespoonfuls of cream	66
An orange	70
Two small slices of toast or two small rolls or three small griddle cakes	140
Butter (one ball about 1-8 oz.)	80

Total 436
Add to that a more dash of syrup for the griddle cakes or maybe an extra helping of sugar and cream for the second cup of coffee, or maybe a dish of cereal besides the carbohydrate named, and the breakfast will readily yield a good 600 calories. Many a fat man who manages to live without working makes his breakfast on a staggering total approximating 1000 calories.

A dinner such as some persons would consider a more appetizer or just a teaser will easily foot up a 1000 calories, for example:

	Calories
A small plate of thickened soup	160
One small sample slice of bread	70
One pesky little potato	80
A piece of meat (hiding for shame behind the potato)	470
Positively, absolutely no gravy
Not a hint of butter, even
A half helping of squash	40
About an ounce of peas	80
A baked apple	70
Cup of coffee	0
One stingy spoonful of sugar	33
Cream sufficient to disguise coffee	60

Total 1102
That doesn't include so much as a wink at a piece of pie or a bit of cake, but it is enough to show how easy, how very easy it is for a lazy person whose eating muscle is in the pink of condition to pile on the slacker flesh. The average dinner in a restaurant will mount to about double the number of calories in the sorry meal suggested. And still these excessively nourished and underworked folks generally make it a rule to eat a lunch every day as well. Why just half a pound of candy yields 800 to 900 calories!

Two meals a day should be the rule for every one who is quite grown up and not doing more work than the law demands. Youngsters, however, should have three or four meals a day.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

ONLY THE SPIRIT STAYS YOUNG I'd like to be a father like the orators describe.
A marble-playing father and the leader of the tribe.
A baseball-playing father, and a hurdle-jumping dad.
But the only time I tried it all the doctors called me mad.

I thought that I could do it, they were tricks that once I knew.
The brave old heart was willing, but I missed the ball he threw.
And I couldn't catch the humor of a little rascal's cry:
"Hully Gee! you curved one that time, an' socked him in the eye!"

I tackled playing marbles, for I once knew how to shoot.
But the little fellows cleaned me, and I spoiled a business suit.
And the little fellows chuckled as they watched me stoop to play.
And I heard a demon whisper: "Hey, his stummick's in the way."

They led me to the hurdles and they put me in a race.
But I tripped upon the first one and I tumbled on my face.
And the only words of sympathy the good wife spoke that night,
As I rolled upon my bed of pain were these: "It serves you right!"

I'd like to be a father such as orators could praise,
I'd like to be a romping dad and keep my boyhood ways.
But I've tried it and discovered that the things you used to do
When you were south of twenty, can't be done at forty-two.

Whiter, cleaner, safer teeth have only to fight the film

Accept this offer of a new way of teeth cleaning. It is delightful millions. It is bringing them the prettier teeth you see everywhere today.

It means vast benefits which your home should enjoy. Let this test show them to you.

You leave film

You feel on your teeth a viscous film. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it, so much of it clings and stays.

Soon the film discolors, forming dingy coats. Then pearly teeth grow cloudy.

Film is the great destroyer. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Those who escaped such troubles have been few indeed.

Two new methods

Dental science has in late years found two ways to fight that film. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

These methods have proved themselves exceedingly effective. A new-type tooth paste has been RUTH ROLLAND, serial queen, is coming back to films. She is going to make dramatic features. Will be her own producer. Has already started the first picture.

That will be good news to her myriad followers.

But the event has an added significance. It indicates the profound hold the screen, as well as stage, has on its votaries.

Ruth Rolland, who made her first appearance at the age of three, who came thru girlhood in vaudeville and stock companies, who has been a recognized picture star longer than any actress except Mary Pickford, and who has amassed a fortune in pay checks and realty investments, tried to quit and couldn't.

"The passion to entertain," she says, "is stronger than desire for money, when one has them both. Public applause, once it sings in your blood, exerts an irresistible call."

Ruth Rolland's name in movie theatre light once was synonymous with the last word in thrilling exploits. She was the original "Kalem girl" starring in one-reel comedies and western melodramas.

At the Quilna

I f a good story, with a tear now and then and a tempest of thrills and heart-throbs, makes ideal screen entertainment, no fan can possibly afford to pass up "The Man Who Passed By" which opened Sunday at the Quilna theatre.

Percy Marmont has the role of John Turbin whose invention is stolen by "Iron Man" Moore (Hart Bosworth). Turbin curses life for its unfairness to him, but a good influence is brought into contact with the embittered man by a girl mission worker, who, unknown to him is the "Iron Man's" daughter. This role is played by Jane Novak whose sister, Eva, appears as her younger sister in the photo-play.

It is when the younger sister falls into Turbin's clutches, fleeing from a famed raid on the "Spotted Dog," and Turbin sees his opportunity to revenge himself on the "Iron Man" thru his helpless daughter, that the audience is treated to some absorbing drama. Later Turbin repents of his treatment of the girl and goes to apologize and ask justice of Moore at the "Iron Man's" home where he is shot down.

But there is a happy ending despite all these misfortunes, when the tangled threads of the story are drawn together and the young couple realize love.

Quilna News and Aesop's Fables are added attractions.

NO MORE GREAT MEN IN AMERICA, CRITIC ASSERTS

PLAMOUTH — Israel Zangwill who arrived here recently said democracy is on trial in America, because there are no more great men in America. It was nothing more or less than a politician's playing down to a crowd which was ill-informed on most subjects and knew nothing at all about Europe, he said.

There is more justice, sense of honor and more efficiency in England than in America," he said, before proceeding to describe Americans as "the kindest-hearted and most charitable people in the world." "Many of them," he added, "are very lovable and very cultivated but some are unable to make a stand against a flood of vulgar-

OIL PRODUCTION BOOST PLANNED BY ARGENTINE

BUENOS AIRES — The Argentine government proposes to intensify the production of oil in the state-owned wells during the next four years, in accordance with a plan submitted to the ministry of agriculture by the government oil-lands office. During the year 1934-1937 it is estimated that 4,637,000 cubic meters of oil can be produced from wells now operating together with new ones to be sunk as set forth in the plan. It is estimated that after four years of work under the improved conditions, the capital account would show an increase of 90,000,000 pesos, consisting of the new installations, tank steamers, etc. Moreover, a net profit of 65,000,000 pesos would be shown.

It is proposed to sink 75 working and six exploration wells in Comodoro Rivadavia, while 18 wells would be sunk in Plaza Huincul, in the Neuquen territory, in order definitely to establish the value of those oil beds.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Within less than a week he was afoot, regaining strength, and proceeding clear of the infection. Yet, before they would suffer him to depart into the world again, he must undergo the period of sequestration that the law prescribed, so as to ensure against his conveying the infection to others. For this he was to be removed from the pest-house to a neighborhood abode of rest and convalescence.

When the hour of departure came, he went to take his leave of Nancy. He awaited her on the lawn under the tall old cedars of Lebanon that graced the garden of this farm which had been converted to the purposes of a hospital.

There was a stone seat near at hand there in the shade, and she sank down upon this whilst he stood beside her awaiting her dismissal. He was very plainly clad, in garments which she had secretly caused to be procured for him, but which he supposed to be the parting gift of the charitable pest-house authorities.

She controlled herself to ask him steadily: "What are you going to do? Where shall you go when . . . when the month is past?"

He smiled and shrugged a little. "I have not yet considered fully," he answered her in actual words, whilst his tone conveyed that he had neither thought nor care of what might follow.

She lowered her glance, and for a long moment there was silence. Then she spoke again, calmly, almost formally, marshaling the points of argument that she had well considered.

"You remember that day when we talked, and you and I, in that house in Ryder Street, just after my recovery? When I would have married you for my life, you rejected it, persuaded that I was moved only by gratitude for the life you had saved; that I sought by that forgiveness to discharge the debt in which you had placed me."

"It was so," he said, "and it is so. It cannot be otherwise."

"Can it not? Are you so very sure?"

"One upward appealing glance she flashed him as she asked the question."

"As I am sure that out of your great charity you deceive yourself," he answered.

"De! Let us say that I did. But you say that I still do, then you are overlooking something. I am overlooking your debt. I have paid it another and a fuller way. As I have saved my life, so I have saved yours. We are quits now, Randal."

"I no longer owe you anything. I now regard you, therefore I am no longer under any necessity to be careful. You cannot deny that."

"I would not if I could."

HE TOOK THE GLOVE AND RETAINED THE HAND THAT PROFFERED IT.

PATTERN FOR TODAY

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM SALLY AHER-TON TO JAMES OGDON

Oh Jimmie, Jimmie, what a boy you are! You say: "Do you realize you have been away over two months and not a one has heard from you? At least, I have not heard from you and as Sam has made no mention of your name I didn't feel privileged to ask him if he had heard."

Has it been only two months since I left home? Positively, it seems to me as tho I had been here forever, I feel as tho I had hit the thing I want to do most in the world. It's a constant fight every minute in this advertising business and I am never sure whether my boss is going to purr like a kitty cat or growl like a bear, he is so temperamental. But that makes him interesting, Jim.

I didn't say "Poor boy!" when I read your letter over. Instead I smiled. You thought you were writing me the kind of a letter that a sophisticated man of the world would write, but you didn't at all. And as for me not wanting to live without the admiration or devotion of some man—I guess that's true, Jim. But isn't it true of every woman?

You say also, "You let me love you." Good Lord, Jim, of course I let you love me! I've let a dozen men love me, but I didn't allow them to tell me so, altho they knew they loved me. But also remember this, my boy, they knew I didn't love them.

So you think I pique a man's curiosity, Jim? That's interesting, if true. And let me make a little confession to you. I sometimes rather pique my own! I'm not always sure just what I'm going to do next, are you? It makes life so much more thrilling, doesn't it. If you cannot see it all cut and dried before you.

And so Sam hasn't mentioned me to you since I left. Does he seem happy, Jim? Honestly, I'd really like him to be happy. You know he wasn't happy at all with me, and yet he's got one of those peculiar dispositions that makes him think I've been horrid to him to leave him, and he won't just own up to himself that he is happier without me.

Isn't it queer, Jim, that we have so many complex and inhibitions? I've had them all my life until now, but now I feel free, Jim, much freer than I ever have been before. I have enough work to keep my restlessness in subjection, and I have a feeling I'm going to make something of myself.

Jim, I think I should have been a man—not that I don't like being a woman, but a man can change his mind often without people calling attention to the fact. A man has a chance to grow, to throw aside the things that hamper him, and above all else, a man can make friends with other men.

You see, Jim, I'm not treating you like a boy any more. I'm talking to you now like a friend, I need a friend, Jim. Be mine, won't you? At least until you marry some sweet girl who will hate me and probably hardly allow you to speak to me. And yet, Jim, I think the time will come some day when you will be glad I was your friend and that you learned about women from me.

MUNSINGWEAR

That Well Dressed Appearance

Women know that outer garments fit better if undergarments fit the figure without bunching.

Munsingwear is the ideal undergarment for women because it fits and covers the form perfectly.

That's one of many reasons why millions of discriminating women prefer and wear Munsingwear garment.

Munsingwear is the proper foundation for stylish clothes. It's made nature's way and follows the form snugly yet permitting freedom of action without loss of fit.

The garments are soft, pliable, pleasing to the touch and do not irritate the skin.

The fine quality knit or woven into each Munsingwear garment insures unusual durability.

Munsingwear is a wonder in the wash as well as wear. Nothing comes out in the wash but the dirt.

Everything considered Munsingwear is the most popular undergarment with women who want comfort, perfection of fit, washability, serviceability at a reasonable first cost.

Carter & Carroll

Our store is headquarters for women's Munsingwear. It is made in every desired style and size and a large variety of fabrics.

We have a wide assortment for you to select from. Just ask for Munsingwear and you are sure of satisfaction and perfection in underwear.

An occasional dose of DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN Keeps young girls fit

False Modesty Wrecks Health

THE young lady just assuming the responsibility of a woman is very apt to be self-conscious of her physical functions, and in consequence neglect them. There is no time, however, when it is more important for her to look after them. Chief among her troubles is constipation, and her suffering will be serious when she gets older if she does not regulate her bowels now. Mrs. Mary Keller of 132 Benton St., Sisterville, W. Va., was perplexed about her daughter until her own druggist told her they used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at her house, and she did likewise. Miss Irene Mazierska of 90 Peter St., Buffalo, N. Y., is glad her attention was called to Syrup Pepsin.

Safe for Young and Old

Let mothers with growing daughters interest themselves in this matter and see that their judgment is enforced. A rule followed by many is to take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin once a week until the bowels function daily, and at such other times as there is headache, biliousness, sores and fever blisters, lack of energy and appetite, sleeplessness, indigestion.

A dose can be given in these conditions to any member of the family however young or old as Syrup Pepsin is a simple compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasing aromatic, and perfectly safe.

Public Recognizes Merit

You will quickly see the difference between a mild laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and castor oil, or rough cathartics and physics. Syrup Pepsin acts gently and does not gripe. Increased doses are not necessary. A bottle can be had at any drug store, and a spoonful costs less than a cent. It has been successfully used for thirty years and is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, over 10 million bottles having been sold in drug stores last year. Keep Syrup Pepsin in your medicine chest.
